

General Manager

We are excited to be looking for a new addition to our expanding Blüthner Pianos London team, based in our central London flagship showroom. Since 1853, Blüthner instruments have been manufactured exclusively in Leipzig. To this day, the fifth generation of the family is watching over the legacy of our founder Julius Blüthner to build the finest, hand-crafted pianos available.

Below is an outline of some key responsibilities the role will entail:

- Managing retail sales and all aspects of running our central London showroom
- Main point of contact for partners (accountant, solicitors, building management, contractors)
- Overseeing all administrative and financial aspects of the business
- Managing projects from inception to delivery and after sales care
- Devise and implement strategies to ensure long term growth of the business and brand awareness
- Maintaining high standards of client and supplier communications

This role would be suited to a creative and well-organised person who thrives in a dynamic working environment and has a true passion for helping our clients to discover some of the world's finest pianos.

Our ideal candidate will have:

- Excellent numerical and organisational skills
- Proficient planning and time management skills
- A courteous, customer service oriented team leader with the ability to work autonomously
- Strong administrative skills with a keen eye for attention to detail
- Superb communication skills

We are looking for a logical thinker with a good commercial mind-set, solutions oriented and results driven with the ability to be intuitive to both business and customer needs. In return we are offering a competitive salary based on experience plus bonus if targets achieved.

To apply, please send your CV to thomas@bluthner.co.uk

Closing date for applications: Friday 6 November 2020.

Interviews and recruitment process may be done via video conference and will be held on Thursday 12 November 2020.
